Note

In celebration of its 2006 Centennial, the City of University City commissioned professional photographer Jay Fram to revisit its history from a fresh perspective. From more than 200 stunning photographs of people and places taken in 2005, thirty eight were selected for the city's 2006 Centennial Calendar. A number of large full color prints will be on display for show and purchase.

About the photographer

Jay Fram moved to St. Louis eleven years ago from Tahlequah, Oklahoma. His previous exhibit, a series exploring the art of taxidermy, was titled Ambivalent Domain, and hung at Mad Art Gallery in Soulard this past June. Fram has also exhibited at the May Gallery at Webster University. His work explores the mystery inherent in the subjects he photographs, suggesting the existence of a greater, sometimes darker individuality. A portfolio of his work may be viewed at www.jayfram.com.
